OFFICIALS ARE MARKING TIME

U. S. Government Waiting
Developments in the Mexican Situation.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, May 17.—With the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" now in force to govern operations in Mexico of the American column, under General Pershing and General Trevino's Mexican force of 10,000, officials today marked time while awaiting developments. This only thing now to be determined is whether the Carranza authorities are getting in good faith in the informal understandings made to General Scott, chief of staff of the army, in the recent conferences. The next few days will tell the story whether the Carranza soldiers are meeting with a view to stamping out brigandage and run Villa to his lair.

WILL VOTE ON BRANDEIS.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, May 17.—The Senate Judiciary committee today decided to vote next Wednesday on its report on the president's appointment of Louis D. Brandeis to be an associate justice of the Supreme court.

Harvey Conant, former employe of the Colonial theatre, is now working at the Ioka theatre in Exeter.

WILL BE HELD FOR HIGH COURT

Third Day of Hearing of Sir Roger Casement and Bailey on Charge of Treason

(Special to The Herald)
London, May 17.—There were but three more witnesses called for the prosecution when the hearing of Sir Roger Casement and Daniel Julian Bailey on the charge of high treason was resumed today in Bow street police court. This was expected to be the final day of the preliminary proceedings, and it was accepted as a foregone conclusion that the defendants would be held for trial in the high court by the presiding magistrate Sir John Dickinson. Artemus Jones, of counsel for Casement and Bailey planned to make a few points for the defense without calling any witnesses, thus saving his big fight for the higher court.

Sir Roger Casement and Daniel Julian Bailey were today held for trial in the high court of justice on the charge of high treason. The con-mittment was made by Magistrate Sir John Dickinson. Just before the preliminary hearing at Bow street police court came to a close, testimony has given to the effect that Bailey claimed to have come from America. Later it was declared that he offered to turn state's evidence if guaranteed his freedom.

TWO AMERICANS RESCUED

(Special to The Herald)
San Antonio, May 17.—Official information was received here today that Jesse Demmer and Monroe Payne, the two Americans carried off by the Mexican bandits who raided Big Bend, have been rescued. The rescue was made at El Paso by U. S. troops under Major Langhorne on Tuesday. Langhorne in his report to General Funston stated that he had expected to be in contact with the bandit gang today in the region of El Paso. El Paso is in Mexico about 150 miles south of Marathon. Demmer and Payne were rescued without firing a shot.

The bandits who were fleeing in two wagons left the Americans behind with a Mexican family with orders to shoot them if American soldiers appeared. Although the Mexicans knew of the approach of the troops, they made no move toward burning the two men. Major Langhorne reported that the Mexicans in the district around El Paso were very friendly. No Carranza troops were seen in the vicinity.

PROTESTS SINKING

Austro-Hungary Denounces
as "Intentional Murder"
Act of the Allies.

(Special to The Herald)
Vienna, May 17.—Denouncing as "international murder" the sinking by a submarine of the Austro-Hungarian passenger steamer Dubrovnik in the Adriatic Sea, the Austrian government today filed with representatives of the neutral nations in Vienna, a protest against "the criminal acts" of the Allies. In its protest the government cites other incidences of Austro-Hungarian vessels being fired upon by submarines, concluding as follows: "The Austro-Hungarian government must emphatically protest against the mentioned criminal acts." Loss of life accompanied the destruction of the Dubrovnik, according to a memorandum accompanying the protest which says in part: "On board the Dubrovnik were 19 passengers, among whom were two clergymen and several women and children. Up to the present the bodies of three women have been found, four sailors and four passengers are missing."

REIGN OF TERROR FOLLOWS

Mexicans Murder and Loot All Who Sold Supplies to U. S. Soldiers.

(Special to The Herald)
Columbus, N. M., May 17.—A reign of terror follows in the wake of the withdrawal of American troops from the advance base at San Antonio to Nampulpa, according to information brought to the border today by returning truck drivers. Mexican bandits have begun the work of retribution to kill Chinese, Mexicans, Indians and any others who sold food, lumber and clothing to the "gringos". Withdrawal of the American column started last Friday. The next day a colony of Chinese was attacked. Many of them were killed, not only for revenge but for loot as well.

SAN FRANCISCO RAN AGROUND

Strikes on Nantucket Shoals
in Thick Fog This Morning.

Shortly after 5 o'clock this morning the U. S. S. San Francisco, flagship of Commander R. H. Belknap, ran ashore in a thick fog on Nantucket Shoal.

The vessel left here on Tuesday afternoon for New York and, upon plunging into a thick fog along the coast, Commander Belknap sent the following message to the Portsmouth navy yard later: "San Francisco floated at 9 a. m." He made no mention of any damage to the vessel and it is believed that there was none.

The vessel is still aground and will remain at anchor until the present storm clears up.

GREAT DAMAGE BY CLOUDBURSTS

Property Loss in Western
at $500,000.

(Special to The Herald)
Buffalo, N. Y., May 17.—Cloudbursts following rainfall which has continued for thirty hours, have caused great damage in Allegheny, Cattaraugus and Wyoming counties and elsewhere in western New York. The property loss was estimated today at $500,000. The Erie and Pennsylvania railroad lines in Allegheny and Cattaraugus counties suffered heavily, extensive sections of the tracks being washed out and train service paralyzed so far as local operations were involved.

CARRANZA TROOPS NEAR THE BORDER

Ten Thousand Mexicans to Take Over
Work of the American Expeditions
Now in That Country

(Special to The Herald)
El Paso, May 17.—Ten thousand Carranza troops are being moved to within a few hours' march of the American border today under orders of General Obregon. Commanding them is General Trevino, one of Obregon's most trusted staff officers who is taking charge of the military situation in northern Mexico. The troop movement, said by Mexican officials to be the largest ever made in the country was explained as part of General Obregon's agreement with General Scott and Funston. The ten thousand soldiers they declare are to take over the work of the American expeditionary forces sent to capture Villa and dispose his outlaw bands. They will also be distributed to protect future trouble along the border.

REPLIES TO POPE BENEDICT

President Expresses Hope
That Friendly Relations
May Continue Between
U. S. and Germany.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, May 17.—President Wilson has replied to the message he received several days ago from Pope Benedict expressing "the hope that friendly relations between Germany and the United States would be continued. The president, it is understood, declared in his reply that he, too, earnestly hoped that nothing would happen to prevent the continuance of such relations. The president sent his reply to Mons. Bonzano, the apostolic delegate here, last night for transmission to Rome. The Pope's message indirectly dwelt upon the possibility of bringing about general peace in Europe.

WISH TO RAISE RATES

Petition Filed With Public Service Commission by American Express Co.

Concord, May 17.—The American Express Company has filed a petition with the Public Service Commission asking for a revoking of its order establishing a maximum rate for express matter in New Hampshire. In brief, if the order is revoked, it will have the effect of abolishing the 15 cent minimum charge established by the board and permitting the 26-cent rate allowed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The company's argument is that by the terms of its new contract with the Boston and Maine railroad, 42 per cent of its gross receipts have to be paid to the railroad as compared with 35 per cent under the previous contract and this has made a serious cut in its net revenue. A hearing on the petition will be given by the board in this city, on Thursday.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the safe arrival of Miss Edna Wetherberg at her home in Sweden. Miss Wetherberg was formerly connected with the nursing corps of the Portsmouth hospital.

Peter Silsky, the Greenland farm hand injured so badly by a bull on Sunday, is somewhat improved at the Portsmouth hospital.

MANUFACTORIES IN STATE SHOW BIG INCREASE

Washington, D. C., May 16.—A preliminary statement of the general results of the census of manufactures for 1914, New Hampshire has been issued by Director Sam L. Rogers, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. It consists of a summary comparing the figures for 1909 and 1914, by totals, prepared under the direction of Mr. William M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufactures.

The figures are preliminary and subject to such change and correction as may be found necessary from a further examination of the original reports.

The census of 1914, like that of 1909 with reference to manufactures, excluded the hand trades, the building trades, and the neighborhood industries, and took account only of establishments conducted under the factory system. In the last census, also, as in that for 1909, statistics were not collected for establishments having products for the census year valued at less than $500, except that reports were taken for establishments idle during a portion of the census year, or which began operation during that year, and whose products for such reason were valued at less than $500.

The word "establishment" as used in the census reports may mean more than one mill or plant, provided they are owned or controlled and operated by a single individual, partnership, corporation, or other owner or operator, and are located in the same town or city.

The reports were taken for the calendar year ending December 31, 1914, wherever the system of bookkeeping permitted figures for that period to be secured, but when the fiscal year of an establishment differed from the calendar year a report was obtained for the operations of that establishment for its fiscal year falling most largely within the calendar year 1914.

Percentages of Increase
The population of New Hampshire at the census of 1910 was 430,572, and it is estimated that it was 439,000, on July 1, 1914.

The summary shows a considerable increase at the census of 1914, as compared with that for 1909, with the exception of number of establishments and proprietors and firm members, which show decreases.

The decreases, however, are due primarily to the fact that at the census of 1909 a large number of reports were secured from small timber mills and grist-mills, for which no reports were received in 1914. Mills engaged exclusively in custom sawing or grinding for consumption in the immediate neighborhood should not be included in the census, but it is not always possible to conduct the enumeration in regard to these establishments on uniform lines at different censuses. The decrease in the number of establishments, therefore, is no indication of a decrease in the manufacturing activities of the state.

Value Added by Manufacture
The value added by manufacture represents the difference between the cost of materials used and the value of the products manufactured from them. The value added by manufacture was $37,561,000 in 1914 and $36,424,000 in 1909, the increase being $1,137,000, or 3.1 per cent. The value added by manufacture formed 37.1 per cent of the total value of products in 1914 and 40.4 per cent in 1909.

Salaries and Wages
The salaries and wages amounted to $46,524,000 in 1914 and to $40,391,000 in 1909, the increase being $6,133,000, or 15.2 per cent.

The number of salaried employees was 3,374 in 1914, as compared with 2,519 in 1909, making an increase of 33.5, or 21.3 per cent.

The average number of wage earners was 78,793 in 1914 and 75,655 in 1909, the increase being 3.1, or four-tenths of 1 per cent.

The maximum number of wage earners ($2,803) for 1914 were employed during January, while the maximum number ($2,526) for 1909 were employed during December. The minimum number of wage earners (16,582) reported for 1914 were employed during September and the minimum number (79,323) for 1909 were employed during July.

Capital Invested
The capital invested, as reported in 1914, was $166,749,000, a gain of $10,750,000, or 12 per cent, over $156,000,000 in 1909. The average capital per establishment was approximately $40,000 in 1914 and $71,000 in 1909. In this connection it should be stated that the inquiry contained in the census schedule calls for the total amount of capital, both owned and borrowed, invested in the business, but excludes the value of rented property, plant, or equipment which was employed in the conduct of manufacturing enterprises. In the final bulletin and reports the rental paid for such property will be shown separately.

Cost of Materials
The cost of materials used was $114,983,000 in 1914, as against $35,157,000 in 1909, an increase of $79,826,000, or 227.1 per cent. The average cost of materials per establishment was approximately $66,000 in 1914 and $60,000 in 1909. In addition to the component materials which enter into the products of the establishment for the census year there are included the cost of fuel, mill supplies, and rent of power and heat. The cost of materials, however, does not include unused material and supplies bought either for speculation or for use during a subsequent period.

The census inquiry does not include amounts paid for miscellaneous expenses, such as rent of offices, royalties, insurance, ordinary repairs, advertising, traveling expenses, or allowance for depreciation.

Value of Products
The value of products was $182,845,000 in 1914 and $161,551,000 in 1909, the increase being $21,294,000, or 13.2 per cent. The average per establishment was approximately $105,000 in 1914 and $81,000 in 1909.

The value of products represents their selling value or price at the plants as actually turned out by the factories during the census year and does not necessarily have any relation to the amount of sales for that year. This value under this head also includes amounts received for work done on materials furnished by others.

Value Added by Manufacture
The value added by manufacture represents the difference between the cost of materials used and the value of the products manufactured from them. The value added by manufacture was $37,561,000 in 1914 and $36,424,000 in 1909, the increase being $1,137,000, or 3.1 per cent. The value added by manufacture formed 37.1 per cent of the total value of products in 1914 and 40.4 per cent in 1909.

HAVERHILL ARTIST SCORED SUCCESS IN CADMAN CONCERT

EXCELLENT CONCERT FINELY
PRESENTED BY WELL KNOWN
ARTISTS IN ASSOCIATION
HALL LAST EVENING

The Cadman Concert in Association Hall on Tuesday evening, under the direction of Mr. E. Bertrand Whitman at which Miss Marjorie Coulton of Haverhill was introduced to music lovers of Portsmouth was fully appreciated and enjoyed by a large representative audience. Miss Coulton, who has but lately made her debut, made a wonderful impression on her hearers in the four numbers she rendered, all works of composer Cadman. She proved a young woman with great talent and a pleasing voice of great range and power coupled with fine quality, and her excellent left nothing to be desired.

In addition to Miss Coulton's numbers the program included several other very excellent numbers by other well known artists. Mrs. Clara Wentworth Marden, a pianist well known to the dancing public although not appearing in concert work for some time, proved herself an accomplished artist in her solo work and at the piano in her numbers as well as with her accompaniment for the solo of the violin and cello.

Miss Barbara Flanagan, also of this city, shared in the success of the evening by her artistic work at the piano in one of Cadman's Sonatas. The violin solo, another of the Cadman compositions was rendered by Mr. Charles Leach of Haverhill and Mr. Whitman's work with the cello is familiar to all music lovers of this city. The entire program was one which pleased from the opening number to the last and the trio numbers were as well received as was the excellent work of Miss Coulton.

BOXING NOTES

Another stellar card has been arranged to take place at the Commercial A. C. Boston. Next Friday night George Alger of Cambridge and Walter Butler of Revere will meet in the main bout of twelve rounds. Both are training diligently for the contest and each is confident he'll win. Joe Campbell of Charlestown, who has beaten Tommy McFarland and Cy Goodwin since he joined the professionals, will take on Leo Downey, the clever Roxbury ex-amateur. In the semi-final, Frank O'Brien of New Orleans and the slugging Charlie Miller of the South End will battle in the second preliminary. Another good bout will be arranged. Secretary Leitch will be at his office at 28 School St. every day so members may pay their dues.

Harry Carlson of Brockton, who recently outboxed Howard MacLure of Cambridge at the Commercial A. C. and George Freeman, who has handled Mike Glover, successfully, have formed a partnership. Henceforth Freeman will pilot the promising Brockton boxer and it is the general belief the combination will prove a most successful one. Carlson is the most promising boxer that has trained out of the amateur ranks in Boston in several years.

During his battle with MacLure last Friday night Freeman directed him and Carlson was so pleased with the way he was handled that they got together after the show and agreed to work in harness. This evening Carlson will challenge the winner of the Dupree-Wells bout at the Armory A. A.

PORTSMOUTH SHADE TREES IN DANGER OF DESTRUCTION

State Foresters and Others Assert that in this Section the Practice of So-called Tree Climbers Have been Doing Serious Damage

Walter C. O'Kang, Entomologist at New Hampshire State College and Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture in charge of the state moth work, together with Professor K. W. Woodward, Forester of the New Hampshire Experiment Station and Edgar C. Hirst, State Forester, have issued a warning to property owners throughout the state that is expected to be of great benefit in the preservation of forests and shade trees provided their advice is followed. The caution against the dangerous practice of scraping and mutilating shade trees and many several places, among them this city, where this has seriously damaged the trees.

WARNING

Avoid Dangerous Scraping and Mutilation of Shade Trees

In central and eastern New Hampshire, in the last year, many shade trees have been disfigured and probably injured by a severe sawing and scraping carried on by two or more men, usually styling themselves "tree-trimmers." There has been much of the work in the Merrimack Valley, especially in the neighborhood of Manchester, in the Suncook Valley and at points east of there, to and including Portsmouth.

The particular operation referred to consists in sawing into the bark of the tree, straight around it, at a height of five or six feet from the ground and scraping off the bark from this point to the ground, leaving a square-cut edge at the upper margin of the scraped area. Sometimes a band of the sticky substance known as tangelfoot is applied around the bark, either above or below the sawed line. Sometimes this is omitted.

Because of the damage that may already be done and the danger that it may continue, and because property owners are being misled as to the results to be expected from the treatment, the following facts are here published:

1. Most of the trees scraped and tangelfooted as above described are not in any way actually protected thereby from serious insect attack. As a rule these trees are elms, since the elm happens to be our most universal, largest and most prized shade tree. There is only one insect, at present, in-

New Hampshire that is seriously attacking the elm. That one is the Elm Leaf beetle. Neither the scraping of the tree, as described, nor the band of sticky tangelfoot, is an actual means of control of the Elm Leaf beetle. This will be apparent when the following facts are noted:

The Elm Leaf beetle passes the winter as an adult winged beetle, in attics, cellars or other similar sheltered locations. When the elm leaves are unfolding these beetles come out from their hiding places and fly to the leaves. They do not crawl up the trunks of the trees. Nor do they come out of the ground, as many people have been led to believe. They fly readily and freely; they alight on the leaves of the elm; and on the leaves they lay eggs, from which hatch the grubs that eat off the leaf surface, giving the trees a scorching, or brown appearance. Later in the summer there is another generation which may or may not be numerous. This later generation goes through a similar performance, except that the beetles have not been hidden away in attics and such places. The band of sticky substance around the trunk of the tree will not more stop the beetles from going to the leaves than would a sign "no trespassing."

2. As for the browntail moth, the condition is quite similar. The adult moths fly to the leaves, lay their eggs and are not in the slightest affected by the sticky band around the trunk of the tree.

3. As regards the gipsy moth, the elm is not one of the most favored food plants and the gipsy does not habitually thrive on it. If there are eggs of the gipsy on the tree, they will probably be above the sticky band and the band will have no effect whatever in keeping the caterpillars from the foliage. Shade trees around residences are not usually so situated that there are caterpillars coming from waste land nearby likely to crawl up the trunk of the tree. Even if they were, the gipsy caterpillars will not make serious headway on the elms.

4. Other common shade trees treated by this scraping and sawing process receive no benefit whatever. In no case observed to date have conditions been such that the tree so treated was afforded any real protection by the treatment.

5. The operation of sawing and scraping not only disfigures the tree, but may seriously injure it, eventually causing its death. It is impossible to saw through the bark without risk of cutting the inner bark or growing layer. Wherever this is cut into the food channels that supply the tree are destroyed.

6. Removing the outer bark from the sawed line to the ground results in exposing the more tender bark underneath to extremes of sun, wind, moisture and freezing. This may easily result in the death of the inner bark and finally in the death of the tree itself. There are many trees that have been treated as described within the last twelve months that are now in danger of suffering severely, as a result of the treatment, and possibly some of them will die.

7. If it is desired to apply a band of tangelfoot around the trunk of a tree to stop caterpillars from crawling up the trunk, it is entirely unnecessary to remove all the outer bark from the ground to a height of six feet before applying the tangelfoot. The bark may be smoothed up a little for a space of three or four inches wide around the tree, but only removing loose scales and only with the purpose of providing a reasonably smooth surface on which to put the band of sticky tangelfoot. Nothing whatever is gained by sawing through the outer bark and scraping the entire area below as far as the ground.

In brief, property owners are warned that the sawing and scraping treatment described above will not result in protecting the trees from attacks by insects, that the cost of the treatment is money, practically thrown away, and that the treatment may result in the death of the trees.

MASSACHUSETTS MILITIA READY FOR CALL

Boston, May 16.—Massachusetts stands ready to furnish 800 troops fully armed and equipped within 24 hours after a call from the National government is received, declared Adjutant General Charles H. Cole today. The troops, according to General Cole, are in first class condition and their equipment is complete. According to the figures given by the head of the militia in this state, the mobilization orders would affect five regiments of infantry, one regiment of gold artillery, one separate battalion of infantry, one battalion of naval reserves, besides the coast artillery, the light cavalry and the other auxiliaries. General Cole declared that he had not received any orders from Washington regarding mobilization. Should the war department decide that the Mexican troubles necessitate the calling out of the state militia, General Cole declared that the Massachusetts soldiers would be in excellent condition to do whatever services they might be called upon to do. Since the Mexican troubles, according to General Cole, the attendance at the armories has increased greatly.

TOO DARK TO SEE MUCH, DECLARES CARPENTER SLEUTH

SAYS USE OF FLASHLIGHT AT MAGNOLIA FAILED TO RE-VEAL PARTIES SOUGHT.

Concord, N. H., May 16.—"I could not tell whether they were sitting or standing on the veranda. It was so dark where they were," testified Detective Arthur H. Craig of Frankford, Mass., while under cross examination today in the divorce trial of Ralph G. Carpenter of Boston against his wife Margaret. He referred to Mrs. Carpenter and J. Gould Day and their alleged nightly visits to a corner of the Gables cottage at Magnolia last summer.

Referring to Craig's testimony that he saw Mrs. Carpenter and J. Gould Day "glitch" in a long distance hug and kiss on the veranda, in front of the glass door, Atty. Streeter asked: "Do you as a reasonable man expect anyone to believe that story?"

"I leave that to their own discretion," replied the detective.

The witness said that on the night of Sept. 2, Paul Black, night watchman of the Oceanwide Hotel, went with him to the veranda of the Gables cottage and flashed a light in the corner which Mrs. Carpenter and Day are alleged to have used as their trysting place.

"I saw nothing when the light was flashed," testified Craig, "but I think Mrs. Carpenter and Day were there, as I saw them earlier that evening go into the corner."

He testified he thought Mrs. Carpenter mistrusted him, as Day questioned Night Watchman Black about what he (Craig) was doing around the premises of the hotel and cottage. Black told Day that Craig was there because of illness and that his father was wealthy. Day then wrote a note, which a boy carried to Mrs. Carpenter, Craig testified.

The witness heard nothing about Carpenter's detectives offering "to sell out."

RETAIL COAL PRICES HAVE TAKEN A DROP

FIGURES FOR EARLY DELIVERY,
SO IT IS ADVISABLE TO STOCK UP NOW.

Boston, May 16.—Simultaneously with the announcement yesterday of the spring retail prices of coal, a reduction of 20 cents a ton in all sizes save stove and a cut of 25 cents in that came the apparently inconsistent dispatches from Pennsylvania wholesalers that their prices are increased from 10 to 20 cents a ton.

Local retailers explained this today. The wholesale prices also are lower than those in winter, but they are higher than the spring rates of last year. The wholesale quotations are the full rates which will not reach the highest point until September.

The normal spring reduction was delayed this year because of the threatened strike, and now that the operation have learned what they must pay in wages, they have announced their spring prices, basing the increase over the rate announced April 1, 1915, or increased cost of production.

Accompanying the local dealers' announcement of the spring rate was the significant statement that it is "for early delivery." They declined to say whether the new prices will remain in force to a later date than usual to compensate for the late reduction but dispatches from Pennsylvania wholesalers state that a reduction of 10 cents a ton will be allowed on the new rates during May. This reduction will be decreased, 10 cents a month until September, when the full rate, which is an increase, will prevail.

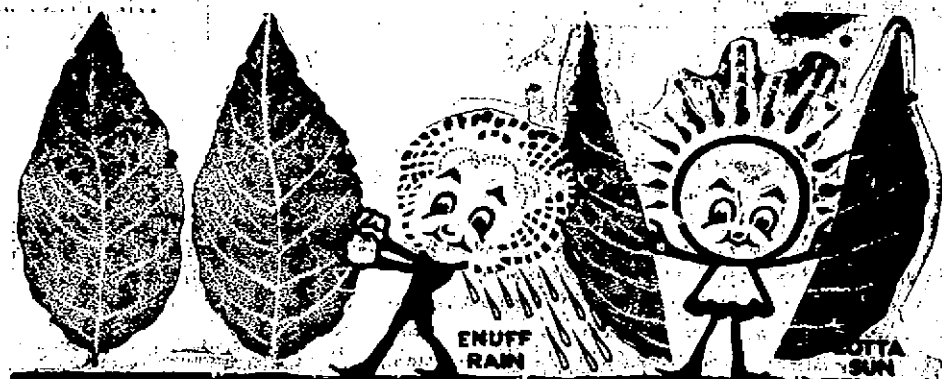

These new wholesale rates, when operative in full, will be as follows: Egg, $5.35 a ton, an increase of 30 cents; stove, $6.10, an increase of 30 cents; chestnut, $6.20, an increase of 25 cents; pea, $1.20, an increase of 25 cents, and buckwheat, $2.00, an increase of 10 cents.

In the meantime the retail prices for early delivery, the lowest which will be available under the new conditions, but higher than those of last spring, are: Furnace, $6.75 a ton; egg, $7.50; stove, $7.75; pea, $7.75; and buckwheat, $12.00. So it is advisable for householders to stock up, as the figures are liable to soar soon.

The wholesale quotations come from the Pennsylvania & Reading Coal and Iron Company. Other large companies are expected to follow this lead.

HOLLIS FIGHTS TO HAVE RUBLEE KEPT IN OFFICE

NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATOR MAY MOVE TO HAVE CONFIR-
MATION VOTE RECONSIDERED

Washington, May 16.—Reconsideration of the vote by which the senate yesterday refused to confirm George Rublee of New Hampshire as a member of the federal trade commission was discussed as a possibility today by supporters of the nominee. Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, who led the fight in behalf of confirmation, is in a position to move for reconsideration, since he changed his vote in order that he might do so.

The rejection of the nomination was regarded as a victory for Senator Gillingham of New Hampshire, who for almost a year and a half had fought Mr. Rublee in the face of vigorous administration support on the ground that he was "personally obnoxious to him." The vote stood 36 for to 32 against confirmation. Final action came after a bitter debate, featured by heated exchanges between Senators LaFollette and Gillingham.

Unless the senate reconsiders its action, Mr. Rublee who has been serving as a member of the commission ever since its creation, will not only lose his position but his salary as well.

Needless Legislation Proposed.

There appears to be no end to the schemes and propositions for taking care of the people, for saving them from themselves as it were. The country is full of reformers and designers of new schemes for the betterment of the condition of the "populace." These persons appear to regard the general run of people as mere children, not knowing what is for their own good and not capable of taking proper care of themselves unless compelled by law to do so.

From such a source comes the proposition to create a "National Chamber of Agriculture of the United States." A bill has been introduced in the national House and referred to the committee on agriculture. Its purpose is to enact into law a plan for stimulating the use of the parcel post as between producers and consumers, reducing the cost of living to the people of the cities and enabling the farmer to get better prices for his products at the same time. The bill provides for more or less machinery which would practically make the post-offices agencies standing between producers and consumers and working in the interest of both. Farmers would "register" and the city people would be supplied with "purchasing books" and, so far as the cost of living is concerned, heaven would be brought to earth if this bill were to become law.

The motive behind this new scheme may be beyond question, but it is to be seriously questioned whether the government has not already done its share toward the end sought by establishing the parcel post and expanding it to its present generous scale. Large packages are carried at less than cost, every possible means has been employed to acquaint the people with the facilities at their command and it would now seem proper to leave them to work out their own salvation.

This proposed legislation seems to us to be uncalled for. While many persons are childlike in their lack of judgment, not all the people of the country are children and it is high time for the law makers to stop treating them like children. If they can not or will not avail themselves of the parcel post in reducing the cost of living after what the government has already done they may well be left to look out for themselves. The government has done its full share and there is no legitimate call for further machinery to enable some city families to save a few cents on the price of a dinner.

Some people are predicting $10 coal within two years. The probability is that these prophets of evil are a little ahead of their time, as prophets are apt to be, but there are any number of people who do not profess to be prophets who are convinced that the country is headed toward $10 coal and will reach that unwelcome development in the not distant future unless the government steps in and puts an end to the monopoly that is becoming more and more oppressive.

The New York health department publishes a bulletin giving the results of tests made in a hospital in that city showing that a family of two adults and three children can live well on $7.50 a week if the bill of fare is properly selected. Perhaps this may be practicable in a hospital, which most people are disposed to keep out of as long as possible, but it will be a long day before the working people are convinced that $7.50 a week will properly feed a family of five.

On the ground that "misery likes company" it may be a relief to know that the commission craze is not confined to the United States, in which for years it has flourished like the green bay tree. News comes from London that a royal commission has been appointed to investigate the Irish rebellion.

A headline speaks of the "insatiable appetite of Congress for pork." Insatiable is the proper word, but unfortunately there is nothing new or novel about the appetite, which for many years has been living up to the old rule of strengthening by what it feeds on.

The Methodist General Conference at Saratoga endorsed a proposal to raise $5,000,000 for foreign mission work. There never was a time when there appeared to be more heathenism in civilized and Christianized countries than at present.

A writer touching on fishing, a most timely topic just now, alludes to "flies you swear by." And the fishermen will attest that in the course of their piscatorial perambulations they come in contact with flies which they swear at.

SEPARATED FROM DARTMOUTH

Editor of "Jack O'Lantern"
Charged With Abusive
Criticism of the Faculty.

Hanover, May 17.—Because of an editorial in the Dartmouth Jack O'Lantern, in which members of the faculty were severely and abusively criticized for the recent faculty vote, granting college credit for work in military training at the Plattsburg camp, P. Sterling Wilson, '16, of Washington, D. C., editor-in-chief of the magazine, has been "separated" from college by vote of the committee on administration.

The editorial took issue with the faculty on the wisdom of giving college credit for work which is not of an intellectual nature, and ended with a paragraph which the committee regarded as abusive of President Nichols and Prof. F. H. Dixon, both of whom were instrumental in bringing the measure to pass.

"The committee states that its action cannot be construed as a blow at freedom of speech, but maintains that on college, while an undergraduate of the college may utter abusive criticism of officers of the college. The committee's stand is set forth in the following:

"Vote!—that P. Sterling Wilson of the class of 1916, for printing and publishing an editorial in the Jack O'Lantern of May, 1916, containing a paragraph abusive of two officers of the college, be and hereby is separated from college."

The committee on administration, acting in the absence of the president of the college, affirms its approval of complete freedom of opinion and all reasonable discussions both public and private. It also affirms that freedom always entails responsibility and that there is a sharp distinction between debates, argument, and the setting forth of views on the one hand and personal abuse on the other.

The paragraph to which the committee objected was as follows: "We are glad that the opposition to this measure was mostly among the young men of the faculty—we are glad that the chief advocate of the measure is not a Dartmouth man. We are glad that the man whose vote decided the measure is not a Dartmouth man. May their memory fade from these halls."

A petition is being circulated among the students which tonight contained the names, asking that the vote be set aside, and that Wilson be reinstated.

Wilson was a member of the Ford peace party.

When the article in question was printed student council of once took up the matter and called him before it. He assured the council that nothing personal was meant and upon his public statement to that effect the council dropped the case.

In commenting upon the case tonight a college official said that the action of the faculty was merely a petty imposition upon Wilson as upon any undergraduate, for an infraction of a college rule, Wilson's offense, it was said, was a violation of a long standing rule against attack upon officers of the college. His attitude, as expressed in the Jack O'Lantern, it was said, was a particularly flagrant violation of this rule. A separation from college, it was explained, did not mean expulsion. It was a suspension that would be raised by the administration committee when certain conditions laid down by that body had been met.

When interviewed tonight a member of the administrative staff said: "It is evident that the faculty of the college does not propose to have undergraduates make slurring remarks in public print about college officers."

PEOPLE and THINGS

There doesn't appear to be proper interest or attention given to the holding of the Stars and Stripes on the public buildings and city institutions. The flag should be raised from all city buildings on every fair day at least. What better way can our new American citizens be educated than by raising upon the Stars and Stripes, or at least having an opportunity of seeing the flag every day in the year. Some one should be charged with the responsibility of seeing that this duty is performed. The Herald has arranged that the flag presented to the playgrounds be raised every morning and taken down at sunset.

CURRENT OPINION

United States Can Retain Trade Dominance by Meeting Competition.

Whether we shall be able to hold any considerable share of our increases in exports of manufactures after the war is over will depend largely upon the energy, persistence and tact with which the American manufacturers and exporters follow up the opportunity thus offered.

The theory that the nations now at war will carry their bitterness to such an extent as to refuse to trade with each other after the close of hostilities finds little support in the history of the trade relations following other great wars.

To be sure, Europe will get a much better acquaintance with our manufactures, and let us hope a better opinion of their qualities, but it must be remembered that Europe is itself a great manufacturing continent and that there are some in the United States who fear so prompt a restoration of Europe's manufacturing power as to endanger our own domestic industries from the "dumping" of surplus products from European factories.

Certainly if we retain any considerable share of the European market for manufactures our products must be sold at prices as low as those produced by the cheaper labor of that continent, not through a cheapening of our own rates of labor, but by higher efficiency of machinery, reduction of waste and greater economies of production and distribution.—By O. P. Austin, Statistician of the Foreign Trade Department of the National City Bank of New York.

money has been set aside for the completion of this stretch. The highway is at present in a very bad condition.

Plans are being perfected for a series of race meets to include auto races, bicycle races, motorcycle races, and foot races at the trotting park. Committees are being named to have charge of these various funds and it is planned to have the opening on Memorial Day.

Arrangements have been made for the handicap tournament at the Country Club on Memorial Day, commencing at 9 o'clock. The tennis courts have been put in first class condition for the season. A meeting of the New Hampshire Golf Association will be held at the Club House, as already announced, at 2 o'clock Saturday of this week. President Washburn is arranging for a very busy season at the Country Club.

The election of Dr. Fred S. Towle of this city as vice president of the New Hampshire Medical Society means that a year from today he will become the president, according to custom of that society. This is the highest honor that can be conferred upon him—that of being the head of the society representing his chosen profession. There is a prospect of one of the big medical meetings being held in Portsmouth during the present year. The practice of having all meetings in Concord, it is understood, will be changed, and meetings will be held in various sections of the State.

Umpire Magraw of the Sunset League is one of the old-time baseball players of big league membership. He is positive in his decisions and is proving very satisfactory.

The handsome new Children's Home in receiving the final finishing touches and will be ready for occupancy at an early date. The grounds about the building, under the direction of Mr. D. B. General Manager Taylor of the Gale Shoe Company is at present employing the largest number of hands in the history of the company's business in this city. He has a happy and contented force of employees, and the big increase appears to be substantial and permanent. Orders on hand insure permanent employment for even more people than are at present employed.

"A word is time saves nine."

That applies to the proverbial stick to the fabric of business.

Don't wait to sound your message until the other fellow has gotten all the business.

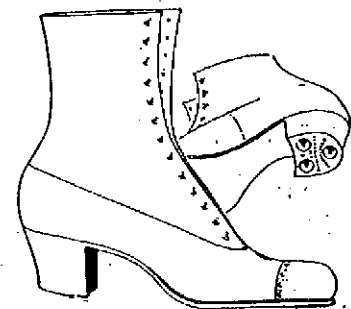

The few words you could use now will cost less than the many it will take then.

Advertise. Begin now.

This newspaper furnishes a most receptive audience to the timely word.

Its subscribers read advertising because they are alert folks, and want to know what is going on.

They buy advertised brands and they patronize the merchants who invite their trade.

Only Four Members So Far Chosen for Orpet Trial.

(Special to The Herald)

Waukegan, Ill., May 17.—Efforts to get a jury to decide the guilt or innocence of WILL ORPET, accused of poisoning his sweetheart, Marion Kunkel, were of little avail today. At noon today, the third day of the trial, there were but four farmers in the jury box and they were only temporarily agreed upon and subject to dismissal at any time. As the constant procession of farmers shrouded through the box, each pleading that he had an unalterable opinion about the case, Judge Donnelly grew exasperated. The court addressed itself in a impatient tone to the candidates while they squirmed uneasily. The court room was packed again today. Many auto parties came from nearby towns and from Chicago to the bickering rail that runs around the court house more than 100 rigs were

ENTIRE B. & M. SYSTEM LIKELY TO BE AFFECTED

Strike Call Issued Last Evening by Grand President of the International Union of Section Employees Will Bring Out 1,700 Workers

The Boston and Maine Railroad system will probably be in a serious situation before night owing to the calling out of a number of the section men employed on the system; the call having been issued by Grand President W. A. Barker of the International Union of Section Employees. The call was issued sometime on Monday and was to have taken effect at 6:00 o'clock last evening. The strike is the result of the refusal of the railroad officials to meet their demands for a 20 cent increase a day and the working day to be reduced from 10 to 8 hours. The section workers are divided into two organizations, the one headed by Mr. Barker being the older and another, the International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way.

Up to midnight this section between Portsmouth and Newburyport had not been badly affected as the majority of the workers are members of the latter named organization. But it is believed by officers of both branches of the unions that they will also walk out as their demands, the same as the International Union—had been refused by the road.

To date it has been learned that the men attached to the Conway branch, the Southern Division and the York Harbor and Beach R. R. had already become involved in the strike. When questioned last evening John Whalen of this city, a member of the Maintenance of Way order, stated that he had received no orders to strike and did not know that any had been issued as yet. He did not say if he was in sympathy with the movement or not.

Will Call Out 1700 Men
In all, there are about 1700 men employed in this department of the system and the strike will likely place the railroad in a serious condition. No word could be obtained from any of the railroad officials as to their position in the situation as to the question of attempting to break the strike by non-union men or would again try to open negotiations with the committees which have been in conference with them for some two months.

The trouble which the road had a short time ago in this section had its start with the first of these conferences. The Italian workers employed on the section refused to wait until word to strike had been issued and left their jobs. As their number was comparatively small it had little effect on the road's operations and little attention was paid to it by the officials beyond their taking certain precautions to prevent destruction of property or interference with other workers sent to fill the positions vacated by the men who quit. It is believed by some of the railroad men in this section that the strike will become general and the railroad will be in a serious condition before this evening.

New Haven Clerks' Strike Begins Today

New Haven, May 16.—An order for a strike to be effective at 2 p. m. tomorrow was issued this afternoon by J. J. Forrester, grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway Freight Clerks to the 1700 members of the organization employed on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

Boston teamsters will aid the 1700 clerks of the New Haven railroad, to cause the clerks carry out their threat to strike and in the event that the road should import men to take their places a statement from the teamsters' union today says the teamsters will refuse to accept waybills from non-union clerks and thus tie up freight traffic.

AUSTRIAN FORCES RETIRE ON TRENT

Clear Adige Valley of All Non-Combatants and Mass 300,000 Troops to Meet the Italian Of- fensive

Rome, May 16.—Austrian troops have abandoned their advanced positions before Rovereto in expectation of a heavy Italian offensive in the direction of Trent.

All villages in the Adige river valley up which the Italian armies might be expected to move, have been cleared of non-combatants. The Austrian authorities put order of evacuation into effect Sunday, according to several Italian citizens of Trentino villages who slipped by the Austrian lines.

Three hundred thousand Austrian troops are now concentrated on the Trentino-Tyrol front. The Austrians are dragging guns up the mountain slides, constructing rock barriers across the narrow mountain paths and making every preparation to meet the expected attack.

Italian troops, meanwhile continue to improve their positions in the region of Rovereto while artillery systematically wrecks Austrian defenses as rapidly as they are constructed.

The war office has issued a detailed statement of the Italian operations for the last two months, including a report on the recent Isarco offensive. It was stated that the Italians attacked both in this zone and in the Trentino to prevent Austrian troops from being sent into action with the Germans at Verdun. In the two months' period the Italians have captured 2100 prisoners, two field guns, and 17 machine guns and have destroyed 18 enemy aeroplanes and five hydro-aeroplanes.

Avocourt Bombardment Continues. Paris, May 16.—The bombardment of the French position in the Avocourt wood and about Hill 301 still continues according to the French official report issued today. A weak German attack with grenades northwest of Thiamont farm was repulsed. In the Woëvre district shelling is proceeding along the sections at Eix and Moulinville. On the rest of the front there is quiet.

Turkey Asks More German Aid. Athens, May 16.—Bavarian Pasha, Turkish dictator, has sent a personal appeal to the Kaiser for men and ammunition to help block the Russian advance on Bagdad, according to private advices from Constantinople.

German Official Statement. Berlin, May 16.—The republics by the Germans of several attacks against positions on Hill 301 with sanguinary losses to the French to announced in today's war office statement.

Still Pounding Hill 301. Paris, May 16.—The bombardment of the French position in the Avocourt wood and about Hill 301 still continues according to the French official report issued today. A weak German attack with grenades northwest of Thiamont farm was repulsed. In the Woëvre district shelling is proceeding along the sections at Eix and Moulinville. On the rest of the front there is quiet.

The night on the rest of the front was relatively calm.

Clear Trenon of Germans. The official war report issued last night says:

"In the region of Verdun there was an intermittent bombardment of our first and second lines west of the Meuse."

"On the heights of the Meuse a sudden attack, for which preparation had been made by our artillery, was entirely successful. Our patrols cleared the enemy trenches on a front of about 200 yards and brought back prisoners."

"Our artillery shelled enemy detachments on the road between Essey and Pannes southwest of Thiamont."

Feeling Out French Front. Paris, May 16.—The official communication issued by the war office reads: "In Champagne a bombardment carried out this morning by the enemy in the region called Le Mesnil-Les-Maisons de Champagne was followed by several simultaneous attacks by small effective at divers points on this front. All these attacks, arrested by our curtain of fire or repulsed by counterattacks were fruitless."

IRISH THE PRIZED SOLDIERS ON BRITISH FRONT

British Headquarters, France, May 16.—There is a town at the British front which is the center of an Irish world. It is the headquarters town of the Sixteenth, or Irish Division. Irish voices are heard from the doorways of the houses. Flower pots of shamrock are on the mess tables of officers who gather for their meals in the modest sitting room of the local grocer or butcher where they are billeted.

In his office, a general who is Irish to the finger tips talks about his troops who were fighting hard against the Germans during the Dublin riots. If he is asked if there is any Sinn Féin among them he will refer the inquirer to the men themselves. They enlisted in the Irish new army battalions in face of the influence which produced Sinn Féinism. This gave them a distinction of character to start with, their officers say.

Sturdy middle-aged men with bits of color wen in campaigns in India and South Africa while serving with regular Irish regiments, some still sergeants, some promoted to commissions have been the drill masters of vigorous youths from Mayo or Kerry or Clare or Cork. But most of the officers in common with most of the men had never been in uniform when the war began.

The major, over six feet and broad in proportion, standing as stiff as a ramrod in salute who looks as if he had been soldiering all his life was a farmer in Waterford.

He recruited a company from the surrounding countryside and was given command. Promotion followed as it has for other beginners. These captains who are members of parliament will get their now unless they are among the casualties which makes room for others to rise. They say that they thought they could do better work for Home Rule at the front than in the Commons.

"We wanted to draft the Irishmen who were in English and Scotch battalions into ours as we should have all the Irish at the front under one command," said the general, "but we could not make the arrangements, as the other commanders would not part with their Irishmen. British battalions like to have a sprinkling of Irish among their numbers."

"My men have had every test of trench fighting, gas and shells and sniping—and they have disproved any idea that the Irish were not as good at sticking as in the charge. They have stuck like veterans. Native Irish good humor relieves the grim monotony of the trenches."

"As for discipline—there's the record for court-martial—the general indicated some blank spaces opposite the names of battalions on the wall. "Up in the trenches held by the Irish, stories abound. When a big high explosive German shell tore a hole in the parapet, a soldier who was set to shovelling away the earth that had filled the trench had only fairly got started when another shell struck just behind him tearing away another section of trench and almost burying him."

Having crawled out and saluted his captain he said: "Sir, I have to report that at the present rate I cannot finish this job without help. They're gassing on me."

The school car from Rye this morning carried over one hundred passengers.

OUTLAW CHIEF PLANS FORCE OF 10,000 MEN

Field Headquarters, May 15, wireless to Columbus, N. M., May 16.—Francisco Villa has recovered from his wounds and has been busy for some weeks attempting to raise a new army in the state of Durango, according to a Mexican who was captured in the engagement at Ojos Azules and is a prisoner here. He says the bandit chief expects to get together 10,000 men.

Cavalrymen are riding hard on the trail of small bands of bandits in the vicinity of Rubio ranch, 20 miles from here, where the Villa bandits were slain by an American forage detachment yesterday. It was reported there are about 50 in the band.

Julio Carreras, one of those slain, wore clothing indicating that he possibly participated in the raid on Columbus, N. M.

Guatemalan President Prepares to Flee to U. S.

Guatemala, May 16.—President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala is preparing to flee to the United States, according to a dispatch received at the Mexican consulate here today from Mexico City.

The message says that Cabrera has a vessel waiting at a convenient port to carry himself and a few followers to the United States. This action is said to be the result of progress of the revolution in Guatemala.

Cabinet Receives Report on Parleys.

Washington, May 16.—Gen. Scott's formal report on his border conferences with Gen. Obregon laid before the cabinet today, led officials here to believe a satisfactory working agreement practically has been reached between the United States and the de facto government.

Except for slight uneasiness over conditions at Tampico, the administration admittedly felt that the Mexican problem, for the time being at least, has slimmered down into the same class with the German situation. Time alone, officials believed, is needed completely to clarify border conditions.

One fact today stood out above all the others in the minds of officials as a result of the Scott-Obregon parleys. This was Scott's positive belief that Obregon has become convinced that the punitive expedition has but a single purpose—ending of border banditry.

CONGRESS A BIT HAZY OVER THE ARMY BILL

Washington, May 16.—All ready to pass the army bill, Congress found today after conflicting statements by Chairman Hay and Chamberlain it didn't know just how big an army it was creating.

In the Senate Senator Chamberlain read a statement that its peace strength is 11,000 officers and 200,000 men; its war strength 11,000 officers and 225,000 men, and that the National Guard's maximum force is 17,000 officers and 410,000 men.

In the House Chairman Hay denied the accuracy of all these figures. He prepared a statement to deliver when the conference report comes before the House in which he charged Chamberlain with having boosted the figures in this report in order to make the Senate believe the Senate "big army" men had won their fight.

When he heard this charge Chamberlain came back with a statement that Hay is depressing the "real" strength of the army with the object of making the House believe his "little army" men won.

Every Woman's Duty

In matters pertaining to the family table is to decide not only what is best for herself, but for the husband and children as well.

Take the table drink, for instance, the housewife may like her tea or coffee. She knows that coffee and tea are harmful to many, but she uses her favorite beverage in moderation, and thinks it doesn't harm her.

But there's John. He's irritable and nervous, perhaps his irritation and sleeplessness may be due to tea or coffee.

Again, almost everybody knows that tea and coffee are especially harmful to the little folks. The next thing, then, is "what to serve as a wholesome table beverage?"

In many families the quick and happy answer is

INSTANT POSTUM

Here is a delicious, "coffee-like" beverage, as hot and savory as high-grade Java coffee, yet pure and free from the drugs, caffeine and tannin, which often disagree with health and comfort.

This pure, delicious food-drink is made instantly by using a level teaspoonful in a cup and adding hot water, also sugar and cream to taste. Everyone can drink all they desire without the slightest chance of harm.

Instant Postum, a real American discovery, is made of prime wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses, blended and roasted just like coffee. Its flavor, purity and wonderful goodness have won tremendous favor everywhere.

ADMIRAL CAPERTON HAS HARD TASK IN FIGHTING COUNTRIES

Washington, May 16.—Elsewhere on the globe wars may be waged and wars may cease, but revolutions go on forever, seemingly, in the two republics occupying the island of Haiti. Double trouble exists at the present time. In the black republic on the western end of the island the President, supported by American forces under Rear Admiral Caperton, is at loggerheads with his Parliament, while in the eastern republic of Santo Domingo, President Jimenez, impeached by his Chamber of Deputies, has resigned rather than brook armed intervention on the part of the United States. The National Geographic Society, from its headquarters in Washington, gives the following account of the revolution-ridden countries:

"Less than two months after Columbus first sighted land in the western hemisphere he had set foot on the northwest extremity of the island which he named Espagnol (Little Spain), subsequently baptized into his pantheon and now known as Haiti. Four years later Santo Domingo, on the southeastern coast of this, the second largest island of the Antilles, was founded, the first European settlement in the new world. For 200 years Haiti, then called Santo Domingo, remained a Spanish colony, but by the treaty of Baylen (1807) it came under the dominion of Louis XIV, of France, through a peculiar combination of circumstances, constituting one of the most picturesque pages of adventure in the history of the western world. Tortured, lying off the north-western coast of Santo Domingo, had been seized and held as the treasure island of a group of adventurous English and French seamen, led by bold and ruthless commanders. These privateers, as they were called, had been waging a bitter warfare against Spanish commerce, their animosity being actuated by Spain's repressive trade regulations.

Santo Domingo had suffered greatly as a result of these restrictions, but one of the island's few remaining profitable industries was the butchering of wild cattle, the meat being sold to smugglers. The natives prepared this meat in huts which they called boucan, and the English and French seamen, learning the trick of curing the meat, became butchers and buccanniers supplying passing vessels with preserved beef and afterward following these same ships.

"When the peace of Ryeswick was concluded, so many Frenchmen had settled on the west end of Santo Domingo that this portion of the island was called France. A hundred years later Spain parted with the eastern end also, but before the whole island came under her jurisdiction, France had begun to have her troubles with the slaves whose importation from Africa had begun under the Spanish regime as early as 1512. While the Europeans were divided among themselves over the problems of the French revolution the Negroes rose against their oppressors and under the leadership of Toussaint L'Ouverture, one of the most remarkable men ever produced by the black race, attained their freedom. Toussaint, the grandson of an African chief, was a military genius who made the grave mistake of styling himself the Black Napoleon. His regimental being aroused against this self-proclaimed underdog, France's man of destiny sent his brother-in-law, Leclerc, to Haiti to subjugate the rebels. Through treachery Toussaint was captured and sent to France, where he died in 1803.

"Descendants, Toussaint's followers, declared Haiti independent and assumed the title of emperor in 1804. After his assassination two years later by two of his officers, Christophe and Pétion, the northern section of the island came under the sway of the former, a negro, while Pétion established a mulatto republic to the south. Jean Pierre Boyer, a mulatto of exceptional ability, succeeded these two and gained complete control of the whole island, ruling with firmness for nearly a quarter of a century, the French having recognized the independence of Haiti in 1825.

"In 1844 the eastern two thirds of the island set up the independent republic of Santo Domingo, with the title of the same name as its capital. On several occasions the latter country has made overtures to the United States proposing annexation and at one time negotiations had progressed as far as the ratification of a treaty by the Dominican people, but, as in the case of the proposed purchase of the Danish West Indies two years previously, the United States Senate, by a tie vote, rejected the proposal. For the last three quarters of a century rulers in both Haiti and Santo Domingo have followed each other like birds of passage, flight, assassination and forcible removal from office being the rule rather than the exception.

"The republic of Haiti, which reflects its French character in the language of its people and in the custom of sending the children of its wealthy class to Paris to be educated, occupied a territory somewhat larger than the combined area of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The capital, Port-au-Prince, is a city of about 75,000. Jeremie, one of the smaller cities, is quoted as the birthplace of the elder Dumas Santo Domingo, where Spanish is the prevailing language, has an area twice as great as Haiti, being about the size of Vermont and New Hampshire combined, but with only one third the population of the smaller republic. While no accurate census of the two republics has ever been taken, the estimated population is 2,700,000, which is 700,000 more than the number of Indians supposed to have been living on the island at the time of its discovery by Columbus. The Caribs called this island Haiti, meaning high land and it well deserves the name, for it is exceedingly mountainous.

MAY BECOME FAMOUS RESORT.
Crockett's Neck is fast becoming popular in Kittery. The road lies opposite Port McClary and at its entrance lies government reservations. Farther down one comes to a short little bridge across the creek and looking east one sees a picturesque little island in the water and farther on the little railway station, and then one sees the Pepperell hotel looming high up, and past the little bridge one comes to the little old fashioned cottage, which stands on the bank of the stream, owned by L. E. D. Secor, and who have been entertaining Mrs. Secor's brother, John Harrow of Boston and Miss Virginia Stevens of Portsmouth passed the week end there. On the hill one sees the beautiful new residence of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hall, who arrived from Merrimack, N. H., on Sunday to pass the summer, and just beyond the pretty new house of Mrs. Emma Wilson Adams which is receiving a coat of paint, farther down on a wide field lies the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gordon of Allston, Mass., who have arrived for the summer. The home of William Anderson lies unoccupied at present, but word has been received from Miss Jenn Boyd of New York that she will arrive shortly to open her studio for the summer, and still up through the shady woodland road lies summer camps, including the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Blake which lies amid a beautiful pine grove, and who are frequent week end visitors, and so the place becomes more of a favorite each year and soon electric lights and telephones are to be installed.

SUBMARINE L-11 LAUNCHED TUESDAY

BOAT ONE OF LARGEST SUBMARINES IN NAVY, WITH 5500-MILE RADIUS.

Quincy, Mass., May 16.—The submarine L-11 was launched at the Fore River yards at 9:45 this morning. Miss Mary Richardson Lathimer, daughter of Capt. Julian L. Lathimer, U. S. N., was the sponsor.

The L-11 measures 170 feet over all, is equipped with oil-burning engines and has a cruising radius of 5500 miles without replenishing her fuel tanks. She is one of the largest submarines in the navy.

After the launching Miss Lathimer and some of her friends went to Boston, where they were guests of the Fore River officials at a luncheon in the Hotel Somerset.

S. A. Gardner Jr., Quincy manager of the Electric Boat Company, was master of the luncheon. The principal guests were the sponsor, her father, Capt. Julian L. Lathimer, U. S. N., Naval Inspector for the Boston district for work under the cognizance of the Bureau of Steam Engineering.

The invited guests included Gov. and Mrs. McCall, Mayor Curley of Boston and Mrs. Curley, Mayor Bates of Quincy and Mrs. Bates, Pres. Lowell of the Fore River Corporation and Mrs. Powell and other officers of that company and their wives.

There was a special party of 20 guests of Naval Constructor Thomas G. Roberts, U. S. N., superintendent constructor for the United States Navy at Fore River, who was accompanied by Sec. Daniels of the Navy the courtesy of naming the sponsor of this, the last submarine of the seven of the L class under Mr. Roberts' supervision at Fore River.

FINDS ENGINEER RESPONSIBLE FOR BRADFORD WRECK

CORONER REPORTS LOSS OF LIFE
"WAS DUE TO HIS 'FAILURE AND CARELESSNESS."

South Kingston, R. I., May 16.—A report that Charles H. Mansfield, engineer of the Gilt Edge express, was responsible for the collision with a local train on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at the Bradford station on April 17, in which five persons were killed and a score injured, was filed in the superior court today by Coroner Everett A. Kingsley. The coroner held that Mansfield had run by signals properly set against him and specifically asserted that the death of Miss Janet Clark of Westerly, one of the wreck victims, was attributable to his "failure and carelessness."

NO MORE TAXI JUNKETS FOR GOVERNMENT AGENTS

Washington, May 16.—Uncle Sam's officials may go on occasional "junkets" at Government expenses, but "fat" expense accounts for taxicab hire will not be given an O. K.

This iron-clad rule was laid down today by Acting Controller Forrester of the Treasury. A decision was announced in the case of W. P. Hazen, special agent of the Department of Justice, whose taxi bill for $2.50 had been rejected by the department auditor.

"In future when a taxicab is used in preference to other means of conveyance the necessity for the more expensive mode of travel should be affirmatively alleged and established before payment is made," rules the comptroller.

COURT OPENS AT EXETER

Case of Derry Man Who Killed Employee Comes Up.

The May term of the Rockingham county superior court opened at Exeter on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock with Judge John E. Young of the Exeter supreme court on the bench.

Sheriff Ceylon Spinney of this city opened the session and prayer was offered by Rev. Patrick J. Scott, pastor of St. Michael's church. Clerk of Court Charles H. Knight then called the roll of grand jurors, all responding but one, and after taking the oath administered by Clerk Knight the panel retired with County Solicitor Albert R. Hatch of Portsmouth, Thomas Fernald of Nottingham being appointed foreman by Judge Young.

The docket was then called and several jury cases marked for trial this term, some of the Portsmouth cases being transferred to this city. The deputy sheriffs in charge for the term are Frank O. Tilton of Exeter, John N. Cram of Raymond and Channing Polson of Newmarket.

Among the witnesses before the grand jury were City Marshal Michael Hurley, and several members of the local police force.

The only case of general public interest before the grand jury is that of Francis Pitt of Derry, who was held last January for shooting and killing a colored man in that town, and who was present before the grand jury Tuesday.

Seven were admitted as citizens of the United States receiving their papers after an examination conducted by Naturalization Officer Dodge of Boston. Those admitted were Franz Mazurkewicz and Norman McGonigall of Exeter, David Henry Crossley and John Canina of Portsmouth, MIMO Videvour, George Kerr and John Derrant of Derry.

THE HERALD HEARS

That one of the features of the big preparedness parade in New York city last Saturday was the big American flag from New Hampshire.

That it is said to be the largest flag of any kind in the world and was made by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company at Manchester.

That it is 100 feet long, 52 feet wide, and weighs 500 pounds.

That it was stretched from the Hotel St. Regis across Fifth avenue to the Gotham.

That it was at first planned to have the flag carried in the parade on the hands of scores of pioneers, but this plan had to be given up because of the fact that Fifth avenue is too narrow to permit it to be carried in this manner and have it stretched to its fullest extent.

That arrangements have been made for some fast horse racing at the Granite State Park, Dover, on Decoration Day.

That the weather man has interfered with Dover Merchants' Week which opened with all appearances of a big success.

That some of the hats that are in the ring for the coming primaries will get an awful killing.

That a Market street grocery clerk says congratulations are somewhat precious relative to his coming marriage.

That he will later make the proper announcement with a bachelor's night for the boys.

That while the boys are sorry to lose Hobby from the ranks, they are pleased that Dan Cupid has put him right.

That the prospective bride is one of much wealth and Hobby says that is no small part of the attraction.

That Dover claims 10,000 people were on the streets the opening night of Merchants' Week.

That the price of coal is due for a drop in this city within a few days.

That it cannot come too soon to suit the people.

That two of the street signal signs sent here by mistake from the makers at Gloucester, will be returned, and others shipped back here to replace them.

That one of the leading lawyers of this city may enter the primaries for the Republican nomination for representative from ward 2.

That twelve nurses refused to take a case of spotted fever at Portland, Me., for $50 per week, because of the infectious nature of the disease.

That the high cost of living is more apparent every day when a freight steamer gets $5,000 for carrying over a cargo of New England rum to Africa.

That the no school signal was sounded previous to both sessions today.

That the June bride is taking courage.

That fashion leaders say the short skirt, on account of its smartness and youthful appearance, has come to stay.

That the ladies of middle age might make the youthful part of it more effective by carrying jump-rope.

LOOKS LIKE A BUSY SEASON FOR THE "VETERANS"

It looks like a busy season for the Veteran Firemen and their famous handub Ruckus. The boys are very much alive and with good luck they will be found at the big muster in Providence this year. Their first expedition however will be to Charlestown, Mass., on Bunker 100 Day, where they hope to stop the speed of some of the Massachusetts machines in a playoff. They also have plans to do battle at a muster at Plattsburg during the season. The crews were never in better trim and if anything gets away from them during the season it will be by a miracle and nothing else.

HELP THE VETERANS.

Most Every City Will Provide Autos on Decoration Day.

Everybody who can conveniently do so, should help out the civil war veterans on Decoration Day by extending them the use of an automobile. Most every city is working to help the Grand Army on this occasion, and Portsmouth will not be behind in assisting the aged veterans. See that your machine is in line that day.
